

Movements of Reay in 2011

03 August 2011: First flight away from nest cliff

At 6pm this evening Reay had flown 100 metres north of his eyrie.

05 August 2011: Further flights

At 3pm today he was 420 metres from the eyrie cliff.

27 August 2011: Longer flight

Today he flew 3.4 km south and back. This month he has been mainly ranging around the eyrie within a range of 3 square km.

30 October 2011

Up to this date all Reay's activities were within a range of 30 square km.

05 November 2011: Leaves home

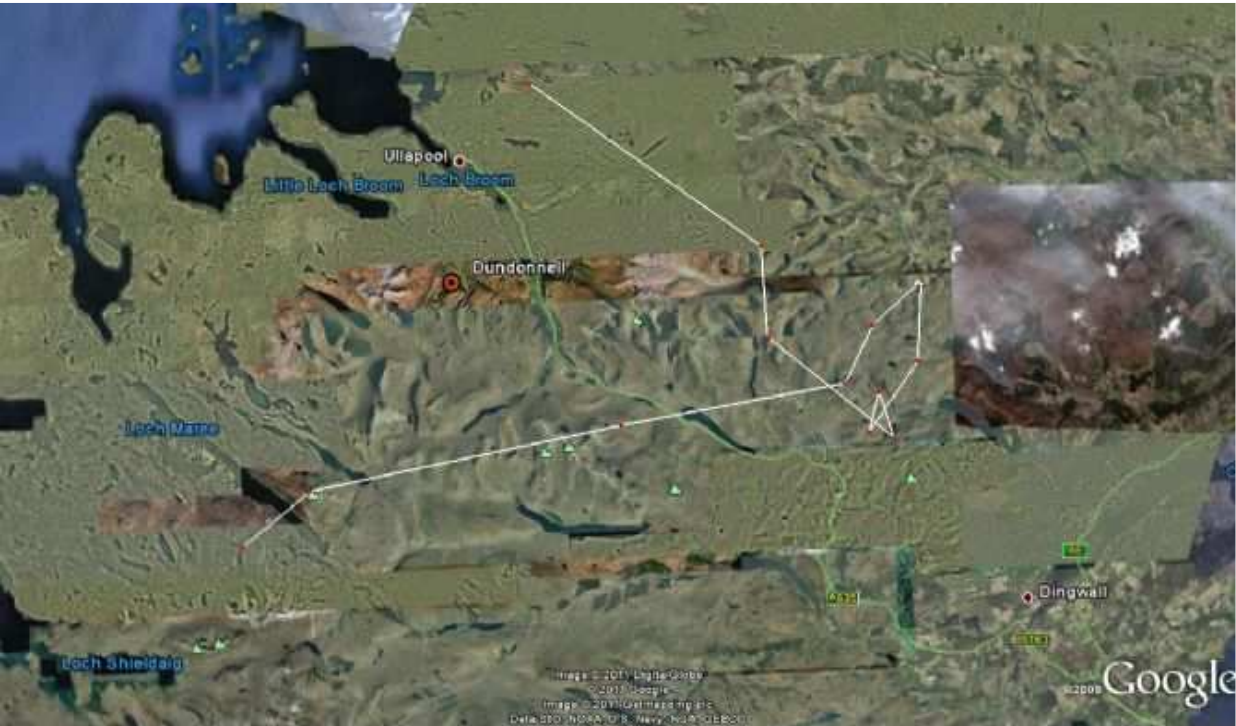

Reay flew 9km north of 31st October and roosted 7 km NE of the eyrie that night. Next day he flew 20 km S and roosted 28 km away. On 5th he went on to Strathkanaird, north of Ullapool.

November 1st-5th

17 November 2011: On south to Kinlochlewe

On 6th he flew east across the Highlands to an area west of Loch Glass in Easter Ross, then north to Kildermorie followed by a return flight across country to the Ben Eihe NNR near Kinlochewe on November 17th.

November 6th-17th

25 November 2011: South to the Glen Affric area

On 19th and 20th he was NW of Achnasheen and then flew SE and roosted on 20th/21st at the head of Strathconon. He then flew to Loch Monar and on 22nd to 24th was near Aonach Buidhe, west of Loch Mullardoch. On 25th he was on the south side of Loch Mullardoch.

November 18th-25th

11 December 2011: To Corroul

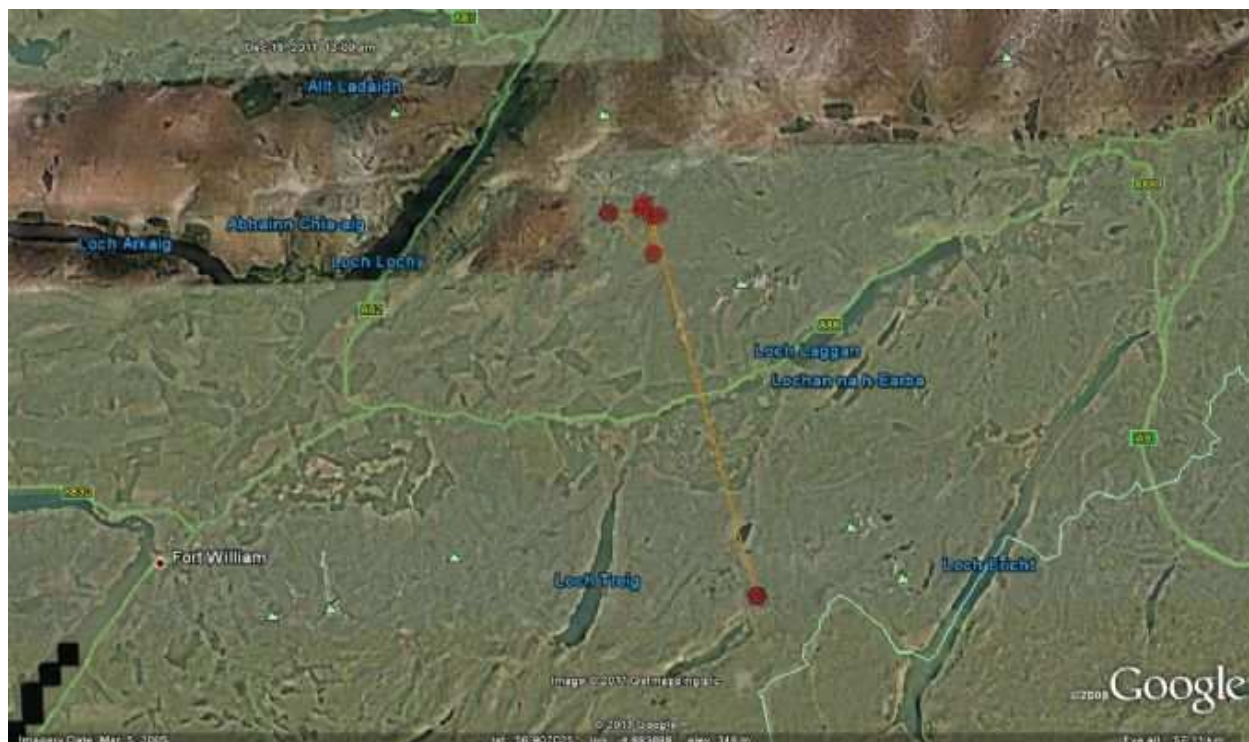

Reay flew on south and was beside Loch Treig on 2nd December and roosted that night in the head of Glen Nevis before returning to Corroul, where he spent most of his time 5th to 11th December along the main glen, with a flight to Ben Alder at midday on 7th and back.

November 26th-December 11th

19 December 2011: North to Glen Roy

Reay flew from Corroul to Glen Roy Estate and was there 17th to 19th December.

December 13th-19th

31 December 2011: No change

Remained in the same area whole period.